

EDWARD CORDIALLY WELCOMED ON RETURN

King's Visit to Berlin Seems to Have Had a Splendid Political Effect.

LONDON, Feb. 13.—The reception in London accorded King Edward and Queen Alexandra never lacks enthusiasm, but the welcome they received this evening, on their return from Berlin, was more remarkable than ever. At the station to meet them were the Prince and Princess of Wales, Premier Asquith and Foreign Secretary Grey, while on the road to Buckingham palace great crowds cheered vociferously.

The king, who was not looking as well as usual, and was closely muffled up about the throat, had a few minutes' animated conversation with Sir Edward Grey, both of them showing plainly their great satisfaction at the happy result of the sovereign's short stay at Berlin.

Effect of Visit.
The visit certainly has had a wonderful effect upon the mind of the British public, and the antagonism against Germany seems to have disappeared. Berlin's cordial reception of the king has paved the way for this, and communications have been given out by the British and German officials in which mutual satisfaction is expressed as to the aims and foreign policies of the two governments.

All this has been so sudden that the question is already being raised, how long will it last? Diplomats who have been watching recent events closely are optimistic. They point out that British and German interests do not clash in any part of the world and that the bitterness between the two really arose out of jealousy over affairs in the near east. Their aims, however, have been declared identical, and Germany having reached an agreement with France regarding Morocco, there appears to be nothing on the horizon over which they can quarrel.

The endurance of the Anglo-German rapprochement, it is recognized, largely depends on that between Germany and France, for in recent years the differences between Germany and Great Britain arose largely from Germany's supposed hostile attitude toward Great Britain's new-found French friends.

VON BUELOW HOPEFUL OF GOOD RESULTS

BERLIN, Feb. 13.—Chancellor von Buelow is hopeful of good results from the recent visit to Berlin of King Edward, and in this connection he today expressed himself as follows:

"The conversations between English and German statesmen held while the king was here have evoked sincere satisfaction on the German side, and they justify the firm expectation that because of the visit of the king the confidence in the loyalty of both England and Germany and the understanding of the political aims of both countries will be strengthened."

"The discussion of the Balkan question revealed a far-reaching agreement, both in regard to the endeavors of Great Britain and Germany for the preservation of peace and in the attitude of each government toward the new regime in Turkey."

DARING ROBBERS MAKE LARGE HAUL

and within a few minutes officers in automobiles were hurrying to the scene. Fort Logan was notified, and the train started out from the army post, Littleton and Petersburg.

LOSS OF SALT LAKE FIRMS NOT HEAVY

The fright which was at first occasioned by the news of the holdup of train No. 4 on the Denver & Rio Grande has now died away. At first it was believed that a considerable sum of money, sent by Salt Lake people to distant points, had been included in the haul which was stolen by the robbers, but these suspicions are unfounded.

Twenty-one pieces of registered mail left this city Thursday night on train No. 4. Of these, twelve pieces were diverted before reaching the point where the holdup happened, being designated for points this side of Military Junction. The remaining nine pieces were sent to go to Denver and points east of that city. Only a few of these pieces were first class mail, several being third and fourth class packages merely registered for safety. It is not believed that much money was contained in the mail stolen which was started from this city.

It was understood that the Park Jewelry company had lost a valuable package in the robbery, but that Park, manager of the firm, states that he does not believe this to be the case. Four registered packages were sent by the firm Thursday morning, but it is believed they went over the Union Pacific on the noon train from here, and therefore were not on No. 4. All the registered matter was from private parties.

Postmaster Arthur L. Thomas is of the opinion that the five registered letters noted in the Associated Press dispatch were the only first class ones contained in the mail to go as far as Denver. The five were addressed to persons in Greeley and Georgetown, Colo.; Waco and Whitewright, Tex., and one to Denver.

The report that the Deseret National bank lost $10,000 in the robbery has been proven untrue. The money was sent to their correspondent, the Colorado National bank, at Denver, and went over the Union Pacific, arriving at its destination in safety.

FLAGS FREIGHT TRAIN TO COMPLETE WEDDING

FORT PETERMAN, Wyo., Feb. 13.—Rather than postpone a wedding ceremony he had been called from a distance to perform. Reverend Daniels yesterday flagged a freight train pressed the train crew into service as witnesses, and proceeded with the ceremony. Charles Page and Mrs. Louise Conwell had called him to marry them, but there were no witnesses. Hearing a train whistle, the three hurried to the little flag station, Reverend Daniels stopped the train and explained the dilemma to the astonished conductor. Then, with the bride standing on the steps of the caboose, the blushing groom on the ground and the conductor and brakeman paying strict attention, the ceremony was performed.

SMALL CHANCE FOR THE STATEHOOD BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Speaker Cannon has agreed to recognize Representative Hamilton of Michigan on Monday, for the purpose of bringing up the bill admitting New Mexico and Arizona to the union as separate states.

Governor Curry, a party of prominent citizens of New Mexico are here to boost the bill and urge its passage. It is not believed the bill can pass the senate at this session.

ROOSEVELT RETURNS FROM BRIEF JOURNEY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—After a railroad journey of 850 miles in each direction taken for the purpose of making a twenty-minute speech on the occasion of the laying of the cornerstone of a memorial building on the site in Lane county, Kentucky, of the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, President Roosevelt and his wife and daughter returned to Washington at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The trip consumed just fifty hours.

The return trip was practically without incident, the most interesting event being a brief speech to railroad employees at Harrisburg, Pa. In this address, which lasted little more than a minute, the president spoke of the railroad man as a model type of American citizenship, and said that because of his alertness, self-discipline and willingness to obey orders, he was just the sort of man that would be most useful in case of another war, which, however, he hoped would never come.

At many places along the route there were crowds of people, who waved their salutations as the train flew by. The president lost few opportunities to show his appreciation of the interest thus manifested. He would respond by waving his handkerchief or lifting his hand. In conversation he spoke feelingly of these indications of popular interest, and expressed especial pleasure over the fact that the people generally seemed to feel as much interest in him now that his term of office was about to close as they felt when it was beginning.

LEMP FLATLY DENIES ALLEGATIONS OF WIFE

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 13.—A flat denial by William J. Lemp, Jr., of the sworn statements of his wife and the assertion by Judge Hitchcock that if he sees the divorcee deal with money in any way, he will grant a divorce with alimony to Mrs. Lemp, the money will not be awarded in a lump sum, but in monthly or annual allowances, were features of the Lemp divorce suit when the trial of the case was resumed today. About the only point on which Lemp corroborated his wife's testimony was his admission that he had hired detectives to watch her.

He denied positively that he had ever struck her, abused her by word or deed, told their son that there was no God, or derided the Roman Catholic church to the boy. He asserted that his wife had read and knew the contents of the ante-nuptial agreement which she signed, although she had said that she did so in ignorance of its contents.

MAN WANTED FOR MURDER IN VIRGINIA IS CAPTURED

CASPER, Wyo., Feb. 13.—Charles L. Mead, wanted at Gates City, Va., for murder, is in the county jail here, and an officer is en route from Gates City prepared to pay a reward of $500 and take the prisoner in custody for the long trip back to Virginia. Mead was arrested by Sheriff Sheffner, who had been on the lookout for him for several weeks, having learned that he was somewhere in central Wyoming.

Mead, it is alleged, killed A. J. Porter at Gates City, November 24, 1906, and of since been under arrest four times. Three times he broke jail, his last escape being from the Albany county jail at Laramie, where he was incarcerated for a misdemeanor. He is 23 years of age, and is considered a desperate character. To prevent the possibility of his escape from the Natrona county jail, a special guard is stationed just outside his cell.

JURY FOR COOPERS FINALLY SECURED

Four of the Men Who Will Decide Fate of the Accused Cannot Even Read.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 13.—Without further changes, the jury was sworn this morning in the case against Col. Duncan B. Cooper, John J. Cooper and John D. Sharpe, charged with the slaying of former Senator E. W. Carnack.

The state asked for several days in which to gather its witnesses. The court suggested that the taking of testimony begin Tuesday morning. Counsel on both sides agreed and court adjourned until then.

Every one connected with the case drew a long breath of relief today when the state announced that it was satisfied with the jury selected. For twenty-five days the court, attorneys and officers had been trying to get competent jurors. It was necessary to draw five venirens of 500 each and select from each a total of 2019 before the jury was secured.

As it is, four of the jury can neither read nor write and two others speak English only indifferently. Every man of the twelve swore he had not read a newspaper since before the killing and some had not read one for ten years.

Bierman, the only exception, had been out of the state from the day he was summoned. The jury follows:

E. M. Burke, carpenter, 47.
Robert McPherson, farmer, 43.
G. A. Lane, farmer, 32.
W. A. Adair, farmer, 22.
Casper Schumpe, farmer, 41.
J. H. Vaughn, farmer, 45.
S. M. Hyde, farmer, 55.
C. W. Knipfer, farmer, 38.
P. O. Bierman, real estate, 43.
J. A. Woodruff, farmer, 55.
Jacob Frutiger, farmer, 39.
William Howe, farmer, 55.
Mrs. Eastman, who was talking to Mrs. Cooper at the time she was killed, probably will be the first witness next Tuesday.

EDNA WALLACE HOPPER SECRETLY MARRIED BROWN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13.—That he and Edna Wallace Hopper were married nearly three months ago, was the announcement made here today by A. O. Brown, shortly after his arrival from New York.

The wedding took place in Freehold, N. J., November 25, 1908. The witnesses were Miss Leona Anderson, Louis Ginter Young and Dennis O'Brien, the latter an attorney for Miss Hopper.

After her husband's announcement, Miss Hopper said:

"We did not announce the marriage at the time because both Mr. Brown and myself were getting more notoriety than we wanted out of the unfortunate failure of August and the resulting publicity. We really made up our minds that we would keep the marriage a secret to fool the smart reporters and have a good joke on them. We consider the joke good enough now, however, and do not mind the announcement."

Miss Hopper figured in the failure of the Brown firm. She was summoned into the bankruptcy court by the receivers of the Brown company because she had a $7500 automobile and a $25,000 insurance policy given her by Mr. Brown before the failure.

PAVING THE WAY FOR PEACE WITH VENEZUELA

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—William I. Buchanan, special American commissioner to Venezuela, has gone to the capital of the disputed claims between the two countries, thus paving the way for a final settlement of the issues that led to a rupture of diplomatic relations last spring. Because of lack of detail in the dispute, the chairman of the committee prefer not to make any statement touching the results, except to say that the Associated Press dispatches from Caracas accurately indicate what has been achieved.

As to the money consideration involved in the claim of the New Berne-Bermond Asphalt company, the officials are not fully advised. Officials are particularly pleased that the state dispute is not to go to arbitration because of certain features involved. Presumably Mr. Buchanan's work will be followed by a general arbitration treaty between the two countries, as the basis for a special treaty stating specifically the issues to be arbitrated, which require ratification by the senate before the cases may go to the Hague.

President Gomez is expected to promptly name a minister to Washington.

ENERGETIC PULL FOR BUREAU OF MINES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 13.—Answering an urgent call sent out by the American Mining congress for aid in inducing the United States senate to consider the bureau of mines bill at this session, the Los Angeles chamber of mines, representing mining interests of California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico, today sent messages to Vice President Fairbanks, Senator Dick, the chairman of the committee of mines and mining, and to Senator Frank Flint of California, urging them to use every endeavor to have the bill favorably considered at the present session. The importance of the establishment of a bureau of mines is set forth in the messages.

COLE YOUNGER APPEALS FOR A FULL PARDON

ST. PAUL, Minn., Feb. 13.—Application for a full pardon for Cole Younger, former member of the Jesse James gang, captured in the Northfield bank raid, and conditionally pardoned in 1903, has been made to Governor Johnson by James A. Reed, former mayor of Kansas City, Mo.

"Cole Younger is now engaged in the promotion of an interurban railroad to his home, Leo's Summit, Mo.," wrote Mr. Reed. "And because of the condition under which he enjoys his freedom finds himself constantly embarrassed."

There is some doubt as to the likelihood of the application receiving favorable consideration. Younger being accused of violating one of the conditions of his pardon by exhibiting himself in connection with a traveling show.

Working of the Prohibition Law in Kansas City, Kas., Detailed

The following communication to The Tribune, on the subject of prohibition in Kansas, will be found of interest to many on both sides of the present controversy, as it deals with official figures of the Kansas City, Kan., police docket.

"Editor Tribune:—There have been such a multiplicity of alleged figures of authentic source, going to show that prohibition in Kansas, among other states where the prohibition law has been placed on the statute books, has been successful in lessening the evils of intemperance, that some official figures, taken from the police records of Kansas City, Kan., before and after the saloons were closed, will be of interest to those who really want to know the truth of the matter."

"These figures are from an official source, and their correctness certified to by the official who took them from the police docket, the document being now in my possession, in addition to which, he states, that prohibition, in Kansas since its inception, has been a farce. Not only has the former revenue of $10,500 to the city, from saloon licenses, been entirely wiped out, but crime and its attendant expense and work for the city government has increased, and the money which once was received to pay for the regulation of the liquor traffic by the police department has gone to Atchison, Topeka, Leavenworth and Wichita, all of which are wide-open towns for the sale of liquor. In other words, those who want to drink who cannot do it anyway, yet the prohibition law has taken the revenue away from the city. The writer further states that one of the greatest evils the police department of Kansas City has to contend with is the 'bootleggers,' who distribute more liquor of an inferior quality, without paying a license, than the open saloons ever did. Respectfully, 'W. J. KAUL.'"

When Saloons Were Open.

Month	Total	For arrests, drunkenness
January, 1906	202	74
February, 1906	135	63
March, 1906	159	59
April, 1906	141	61
May, 1906	169	57
June, 1906	147	67

"This record for the six months preceding the closing of the saloons shows an average of 173 arrests each month, for all causes, with an average number for drunkenness each month of 65, or nearly one-half."

When Saloons Were Closed.

"After considering the foregoing figures it will be of further interest to study the record of the year following on the same basis. Here it is:

Month	Total	For arrests, drunkenness
July, 1906	178	29
August, 1906	215	51
September, 1906	188	57
October, 1906	265	57
November, 1906	141	47
December, 1906	227	46
January, 1907	206	57
February, 1907	256	68
March, 1907	185	53
April, 1907	222	59
May, 1907	474	55
June, 1907	282	55

"The foregoing figures for the year succeeding the closing of the saloons shows an average monthly number of arrests of 260, of which the average number docketed for drunkenness was a fraction over 65."

Crime Increases.

"While the arrests for drunkenness, during the year after the saloons closed remained practically unchanged, as compared with the number during the six months preceding the closing of the saloons, it will be seen that the number of arrests for other crimes has increased."

Judge Violates Law.

NEWMAN, Ga., Feb. 13.—Judge W. B. Dent, United States commissioner, was found guilty in the city court here yesterday on a charge of keeping whisky for sale, and was fined $100.

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this medicinal medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent demand may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

SHRINERS' JOKE IS EXPLAINED

Local Shriners have been smiling broadly since Tuesday evening, especially at the manner in which their wives regard a little bit of noble playfulness indulged in on the evening mentioned. Last Tuesday night the Shriners owned the Colonial theater for a few hours, giving Miss Florence Gear, in "Marrying Mary," one of the most enthusiastic receptions ever accorded an actress in this city.

Shrinedom is a bundle of innocent amusement among other things, and especially fun. It is not a part of Masonry at all, only Masons of a certain degree, namely Scottish Rite or Knight Templar Masons, being eligible for membership. When the boys turn out en masse there is something doing from the crack of the whip, and last Tuesday evening was no exception.

Miss Gear, in one of her songs, and by means of a mirror, reflected the brilliant spot-light in the faces of her audience, being instructed to turn it especially on the beaming countenance of John Critchlow, who was enjoying the show at the expense of P. C. Schramm in the latter's box. A plan was concocted in the brain of Noble A. T. Hutchinson, in which he was ably backed by Noble Critchlow, Schramm, P. C. Gustaf and L. H. Harding.

The play was for Critchlow to act as if angry at this spot-light business, and he did so with the able assistance of Mr. Schramm. Miss Gear was on the play to a certain extent, but some of the boys who know say that the floods of wrath that she apparently had turned loose in that box were a bit more than she had expected.

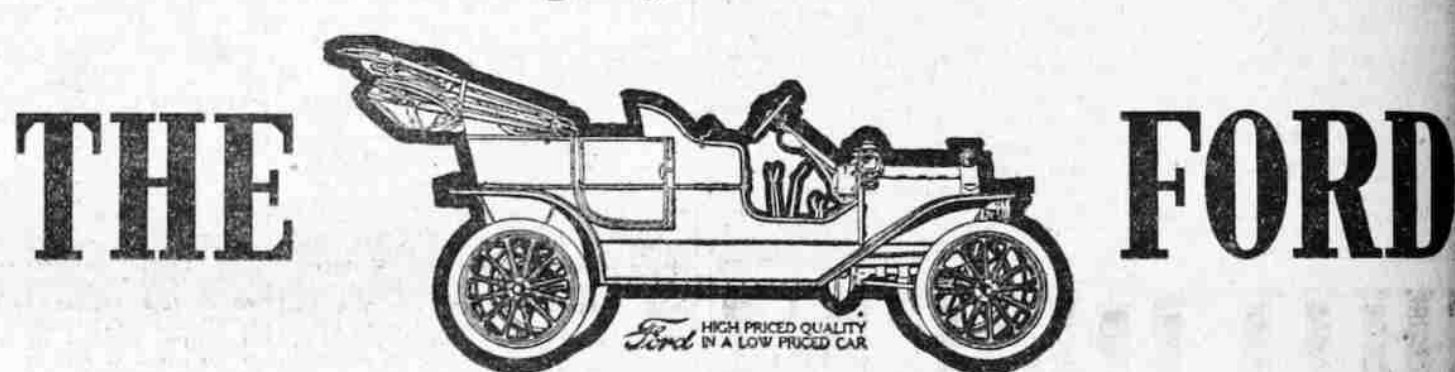

she stood her ground well, and was assisted in the maintenance of her rights by Nobles Gustaf and Harding. But, the frightened ones in the audience were the ladies accompanying Shriners. Many have not found the joke yet, and those who do fail to recognize it in anything women would make very unskillful Shriners. No, the boys in the were not angry; they were not mad, were all prearranged, and if Miss Gear had any thoughts for the moment, contrary, the great bunch of noble Beauty roses presented to her at the footlights soon removed the joke from the joke itself, and just a little bit. You were deceived, but that was why it all was done.
